

DerryNews

December 28, 2011

A look at local newsmakers

By Julie Huss and Suzanne Laurent Staff Writers

Dylan Mahalingam

Dylan Mahalingam has an impressive resume, especially for a teenager.

The 16-year-old is a junior at Pinkerton Academy. He cofounded Lil' MDGs in 2004 to empower children around the globe to meet the United Nations Millennium Development Goals. He rallied more than 20,000 youth volunteers from 40 countries to work together to raise more than $780,000 for tsunami relief and other efforts.

His efforts also include raising funds to build schools, dorms, libraries, playgrounds and community gardens.

Dylan was recently named as one of the 50 most influential people in New England by India New England.

<http://www.derrynews.com/local/x1477834683/A-look-at-local-newsmakers>